

Integrity Fusion Products
Coronavirus; COVID-19

March 23, 2020

Integrity Fusion has been closely monitoring the rapidly changing impact that COVID-19 is having on our employees, community & beyond. These are certainly unprecedented times! Though Integrity Fusion is still open and serving our customers, we are taking appropriate steps of Social Distancing in our effort to help curtail the potential spread of the virus.

- All Outside Sales staff are no longer traveling, working only from home, via email and telephone.
- Transitioning our Inside Sales team to work from home, without reducing the incredible service provided to our customers.
- Reducing the number of warehouse employees in the building each day by implementing rotating shifts.
- All non essential office employees will be working from home.
- Increased cleaning & disinfecting protocols in our work space.
- Educating and training our staff on the importance of Social Distancing, and proper safety and cleansing standards.
- Reducing interaction with outside vendors.

Integrity Fusion takes the well-being of our employees and customers very seriously. We will continue to work diligently to help ensure a safe working environment, as we continue to provide the top-notch service that our customers have come to expect.

Some have inquired as to the status of inventory, or possible interruption to our supply chain. Rest assured, Integrity Fusion continues to stock an unprecedented inventory level of product, and our manufacturing and supply chains continue to operate uninterrupted at this time.

Integrity Fusion will continue to monitor this situation daily, and make any necessary adjustments as needed. Thank you for all your support as we all navigate these challenging times.

Sincerely,

Doug Yelken
President
